~~CONFIDENTIAL - SECURITY INFORMATION~~

Mr. H. P. Corwith
 Vice President
 Development and Research
 Western Union Telegraph Company
 60th Hudson Street, Room A-33
 New York, New York

Dear Mr. Corwith:

In a letter dated 24 December 1952, Admiral Joseph R. Redman, in response to our request that the Western Union nominate a specialist in telecommunication engineering to serve on the National Security Agency Scientific Advisory Board, has advised me that you have been good enough to offer yourself as a candidate for membership. I am gratified to learn of your willingness to serve on the Board and will look forward to having you with us at the first meeting of the Board. It had been contemplated having that meeting on 26 January 1953, but that date having proved unsuitable, the meeting has been postponed to about the middle of February. Just as soon as a date has been fixed I shall give you at least two weeks' advance notice thereof.

In the meantime, I think it may be useful to you to examine the inclosed document which sets forth the mission and functions of the Board. You may retain this if you wish.

Sincerely,

15/

J. N. WENGER
 Rear Admiral, US Navy
 Vice Director
