Dear Mr. Pollard:

I am much indebted to you for sending me the Pollards' own copy of "No bed for Bacon," a delightful bit of writing which I am reading now with a great deal of interest. I shall add it to my collection of Baconiana.

We have just finished our very nice and successful conference with Mr. [redacted] et al. Despite the able representation, we missed your wise counsel and your cheerful countenance.

Thank you for remembering my wishes and cordial greetings to you.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM F. FRIEDMAN
