TO AFSA-14

FROM AFSA-00T

SUBJECT Material for AFSA Technical Library

DATE 9 October 1951

Transmitted herewith for inclusion in the AFSA Technical Library are excerpts pertaining to mediaeval cryptography taken from a book entitled "England and the Continent in the Eighth Century". This book contains the Ford Lectures, delivered in the University of Oxford in the Hilary Term 1943, and is printed at Oxford by the Clarendon Press. The first excerpt (pp. 138-139) is taken from Lecture VI entitled "Learning and Scholarship"; the second excerpt is Chapter VIII of the Appendix: "St. Boniface and Cryptography".
